Call for Papers/Exhibitors

Dear Friends and Colleagues:

The PDA Global PAT Conference Program Planning Committee invites you to submit an abstract for presentation (approximately 30 minutes) at the PDA Global PAT Conference in Bethesda, Maryland, May 22-23, 2007. We are looking for case studies detailing all aspects of a Process Analytical Technology (PAT) development and implementation project, including:

- Strategies for developing a meaningful business case, risk and opportunity evaluations
- Approaches to regulatory submissions for PAT applications (FDA and EMEA)
- Working within your organization to implement PAT: The business case; Impact on roles (Quality/Regulatory/Manufacturing); Overcoming organizational obstacles
- Use of PAT in the development interface in support of quality-by-design principles
- Implementation in manufacturing for legacy products and pipeline products
- Developing the PAT toolbox for implementation across multiple applications
- Improve product quality and operator safety via process containment
- Reduce the Burden of Offline Laboratory Testing: In-process and end product
- Use of data-rich experiments and chemometrics
- Qualification requirements for PAT

All submitted abstracts will be reviewed by the Program Planning Committee for inclusion in the meeting or for poster presentation. For more information, please contact Jason Brown at brown@pda.org or +1 (301) 656-5900 ext. 131.

Visit www.pda.org/pat to submit your abstract.
Abstracts must be received by Tuesday, January 16, 2007 for consideration.

Please include the following information and follow the steps identified in the Abstract Manager.
Submissions received without full information will not be considered.

- Title
- Presenter's biography
- Additional authors
- Full mailing address
- Email address of the presenter and co-presenters
- 2-3 paragraph abstract, summarizing your topic and the appropriate forum (case study, discussion, traditional, panel, etc.)
- Target audience (by job title/department)
- Audience take-home benefits
- Key learning objectives

Commercial abstracts featuring promotion of products and services will not be considered. Upon review by the program committee you will be advised in writing of the status of your abstract after February 15, 2007. PDA will provide one complimentary registration per presentation. Additional presenters are required to pay appropriate conference registration fees. All presenters are responsible for their own travel and lodging, with the exception of health authority speakers.
